

Rutgers Rowing

Junior Day

December 5th, 2009

10:30-2:00

Rutgers University Women's Rowing is hosting a Junior Day for high school rowers in their junior year and their parents. The day is designed to introduce prospective college athletes to Rutgers University, our rowing program, and the recruitment process. They will meet members of our team, speak with the coaches, and tour campus.

Space for this event is limited. We are asking coaches to recommend their top collegiate prospects. From those recommended, we will send invitations to a select group of athletes. We are interested in the athletes' height, weight, erg score, athletic achievements and accolades, impact on the team, and any other athletic activities.

The recommendation deadline is Wednesday, November 11th and invitations will be sent out no later than Monday, November 16th.
